

Colorado Medieval Festival(c) Pet Policy:

We at the Colorado Medieval Festival, (The Faire), welcome pets owned by responsible owners. The Faire is a family affair, it is however, recommended that if at all possible, you allow your pet to remain in the comfort of your home.

All pets will be registered with an owner signed liability waiver prior to entry to the festival grounds. Prior-mail is registration is encouraged. Festival registration forms attached to this letter. Owners will provide the following: Name, address, phone number of owner and proof of current vaccinations (rabies/distemper/Parvo/Feline leukemia and other state required vaccinations). Name, address, and phone number of veterinarian.

Our festival may have animal attractions and acts, which are disrupted by the presence of unfamiliar animals. Pet owners will adhere to the requests of said animal acts/attractions and not bring their pets around and cause disruptions to our contracted animal acts and attractions.

For Guest pet owners:

- Pets that are used to aid the handicapped and official service animals are welcome.
- Pet admissions are strictly limited to domestic cats and dogs only.
- Pet waste will be cleaned up by pet owner and disposed of in the waste containers provided.
- CURB YOUR PETS.
- Do not allow them to relieve themselves where others walk.
- Pet owners are responsible for any damage their pet may cause.
- Owners will be required to control where their pets urinate and defecate, avoid pathways, tents and props.
- Pets causing injuries or damage shall be reported to the First Aid and security, immediately. Owner and victim shall provide faire with incident report and owner information.
- Unruly, nervous, noisy, aggressive or ill pets will not be admitted.
- Determination of suitability shall be at the sole discretion of the faire staff.
- Failure to adhere to any of the above will have the pet owner escorted to the gate without refund.
- NO FEMALE ANIMALS IN HEAT will be permitted entry to the faire.
- Any animal not admitted to the faire shall be removed from festival property.
- No animals shall be left unattended in vehicles or parking lot.

For Participants pet owners:

The following has been compiled to allow the enjoyment for all at our festival:

All animals will be registered at the faire office. Participants will provide proof of vaccinations (rabies/distemper/Parvo/ feline distemper and other state required vaccinations). Also owners name, address, phone number, veterinarians name, address and phone number. Animals that birth young during festival run shall have all worming and vaccinations required for their species. ALL animals will wear owner provided I.D. with the owners contact information at all times. NO EXCEPTIONS!!!!

Colorado Medieval Festival(c) Pet Policy:

Noisy, unruly and aggressive animals will not be tolerated. If your pet is one of the aforementioned. Do not bring it to our festival. Such determination shall be the sole discretion of the festival staff. All pets (including cats) will be leashed fenced or confined at ALL TIMES. We may have other animal acts and a petting zoo where there are small animals and birds which would be stressed and or injured by unleashed animals. Free roaming pets are a danger and stressful to contracted performing animals and native wildlife. This policy cannot be emphasized strongly enough. Animals found to be free-ranging, or off lead shall have the owner subject to a $100.00 fine. A second incident shall have the offending animal ejected from the festival. Animals found free-ranging shall be taken to the local shelter. Owner shall be responsible for any fees in recovering their pet. The same animal shall not be re-admitted to festival property. Owner will have to find other accommodations for the offending animal off festival property (example: boarding).

Owners shall be responsible for any damage their pets may cause. Any damage or injuries shall be reported immediately to first aid or the festival office. Owner and victim shall each complete an incidence report with security.

Any patron contact with your pet during festival hours is prohibited, unless you are a contract animal act or attraction (such as the petting zoo, animal rides or a stage act that features animals or birds). Pets are allowed at booths during festival hours. They are to be kept out of sight and QUIET. Noisy animals are a terrible distraction and shall be removed from the festival. Crating of your pet during festival hours is strongly recommended. If leashed, leashes shall not exceed 4 feet. Make sure your pet has access to fresh water all times during the festival.

CURB YOU PET!!! Do not allow your pet to relieve itself on others props. Have you pet relieve itself away from where people walk, be mindful of our vendors tents and merchandise. Pet owners are required to clean up pet waste promptly and dispose of waste in containers provided. FEMALES IN HEAT will not be allowed in the festival during festival hours.

Be neat with your pet food. Do not leave pet food outside unattended. Clean up any pet food that has been spilled. Bring in dishes after pet has been fed. Do not leave pet food dishes out at night after your pet has been fed. Spilled, unattended pet food attracts vermin (rats, crows, skunks, gulls, raccoons, coyotes, etc). Let's prevent a vermin problem before it happens.

Failure to adhere to the above rules shall have the pet ejected from the festival after one warning.
